Acting for Everyone

Tuesdays from 6pm – 8pm

Whether you would simply like to develop your confidence and improve your speaking voice, want to try your hand at performance or are already an actor in training or in work, these sessions will be of great value. You will cover a broad cross section of the necessary skills in the actor's 'tool kit' – for example, building a character, taking control of your body and voice and developing your own 'method'. Along the way you will receive regular, in-depth feedback, advice and direction from Lodestar's key creative team.

Shakespeare for Everyone

Mondays from 6pm – 8pm

If you would like to learn more about Shakespeare in performance then this course is for you. Using entirely practical methods you can learn how verse works, how to approach it in performance and a whole range of practical techniques designed to make performing Shakespeare easy and fun. Classes will focus on the performance clues inherent in the poetic text and the importance of the actor's ability to imaginatively visualise metaphor in order to deliver the text with clarity and conviction.

Impro' for Everyone

Saturdays from 11am – 1pm

Lose your inhibitions, be more spontaneous and improve your confidence in an entirely fear-free environment. Starting with the simplest games, you will quickly and effortlessly develop your skills until before you know it, you will be improvising the blues, inventing terrible jokes (which get laughs!) and most importantly, not caring what anyone else thinks. For actors in training or in work, we view improvisation as a means to an end – we use it to keep our skills sharp and assist us in our preparation for performance.
