Keeping Our Supporters Informed

The New Year is upon us and from my family to you and yours, I want to wish all of you a Happy and Blessed New Year.

As I stated in my last email update, I wanted to also share my New Years Resolution with you. I think that this bears repeating. I resolve to work tirelessly to bring Common Sense government back to Washington D.C. I will also do everything I can to ensure that your voice is heard in Congress, but first I am going to need your help in getting me elected to be your voice in Washington D.C.

This is going to be a hard fight and I am going to need all of your help to accomplish this goal. I have made my resolution and now I need you to make yours. If you can donate $25, $50, $100 or $250, it will go a long way in helping us to get to Washington and fight for you. www.drallenforcongress.com/donate

The failed policies of this administration and Congress have killed potential jobs in 6th District:

I got a call last week from a man in Pomeroy. He said the people in Meigs County were very angry that a $3 billion coal-fired power plant that was supposed to be built there was cancelled.

The New Year and a New Start

2010 is shaping up to be an interesting and exciting year here in Ohio and in the United States in general. I say interesting because I believe that we have a unique opportunity this year. In May and November, we have the opportunity to take our government back. We have the opportunity to have our voices heard in a resounding voice that says we will no longer sit idly by and watch as our freedom and our country are eroded away by overreaching government bureaucracy and out of control spending.

I also believe that this is going to be a campaign season unlike any that we have seen before and I am heartened by this. From the Tea party movement to the still silent among us, I predict that more Americans than ever are going to be watching, listening and engaging those who are seeking office. I look forward to this and I am excited to listen to everyone from the Sixth District and tell them about my vision for our District as well. If you are unable to attend an event that we are at or hear of an event that you would like us to attend, please email us at info@drallenforcongress.com.

My Blog will be up and running in the next few weeks. I will be using this site as a method for helping you get a better understanding of my views and communicating with you about concerns facing the voters of Ohio's 6th District.

Your concerns are being heard, 2010 is shaping up to be great year for American Voters:

We have to keep working to get our voices heard. Leaders are stepping up across this country to kick out those who have forgot why they went to Washington in the first place.

National Security is a Priority

Passengers on a flight from Amersterdam to Detroit became unlikely heroes on Christmas Day. Their courage and action along with some divine intervention may have been all that saved this airline from a terrible fate. What is going to take for this administration and this Congress to understand that we are at war? What has to happen before they understand the importance of border and transprotation security? How much study and research is required to know that there are groups of people who want to do us harm simply because of the freedoms that we cherish? Our federal government needs to get its priorities straight and it needs to begin focusing on national security. It is the governments basic function and if elected it will be my number one priority.
