Inferring

with

The Stranger

a free lesson created by
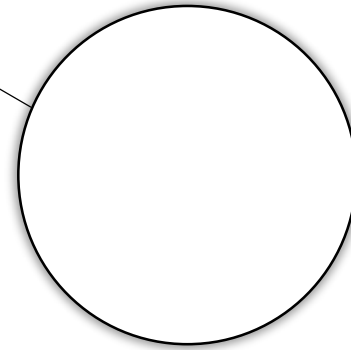

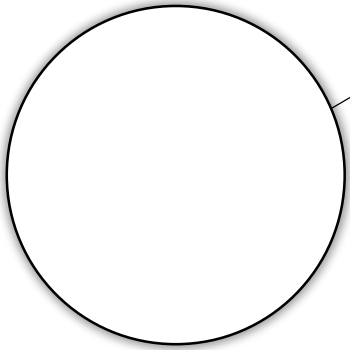

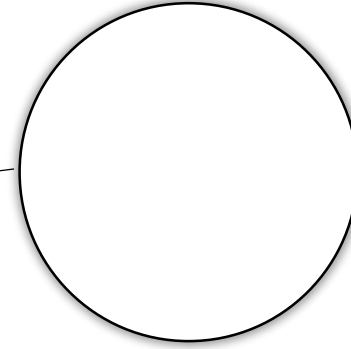

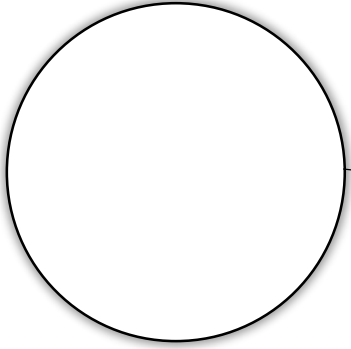

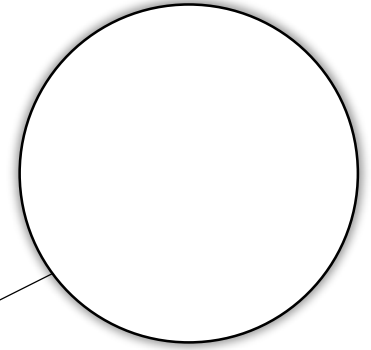

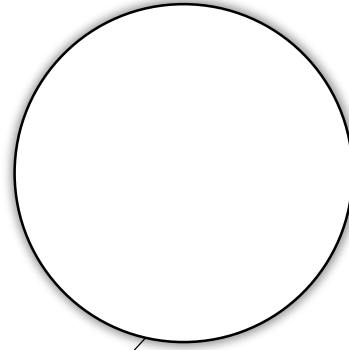

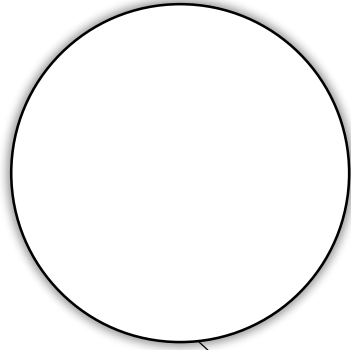

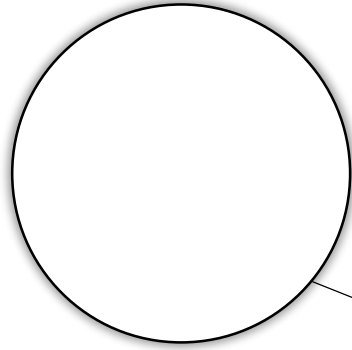

Who Is The Stranger?

jivey

The stranger didn't sweat when he worked, showing he doesn't get hot.

Autumn was supposed to be coming, but the days were still warm.

He couldn't think of anything else except how wrong it seemed that the leaves were green.

He blew on a leaf and it turned red, so he must be the reason the leaves change.

When he blew on his soup, Mrs. Bailey felt very cold.

When the stranger left, the air turned cold and the leaves changed.

The mercury was stuck in the thermometer, so he is very cold.
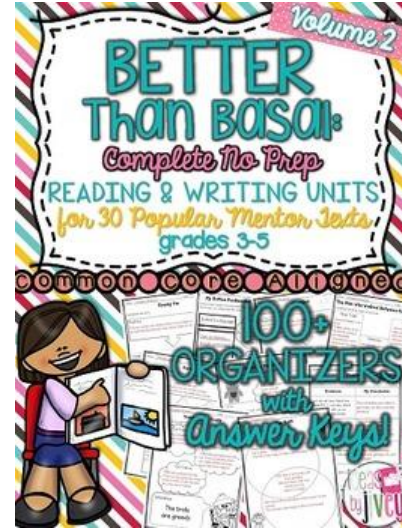

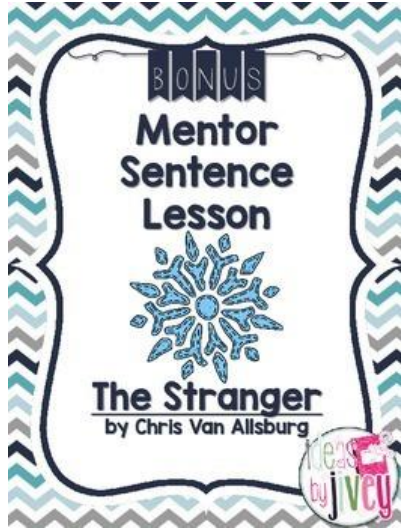

Every fall on the Bailey's farm, "see you next fall" is written in frost!

Who Is The Stranger?

JACK FROST

jivey

You might also be interested in:

Mentor Sentence Lesson
The Stranger
by Chris Van Allsburg

Grades 3-5
BETTER Than Basal:
COMPLETE NO PREP
Reading & Writing Units
for 40 Popular Mentor Texts
common•core•Aligned
100+ ORGANIZERS WITH ANSWER KEYS!

Volume 2
BETTER Than Basal:
Complete No Prep
READING & WRITING UNITS
for 30 Popular Mentor Texts
grades 3-5
common•core•Aligned 100+ ORGANIZERS with Answer Keys!

ideas by Jivey

FOLLOW ME!

Credits for Clip Art:

CREATIVE Clips
KRISTA WALLDEN

Teaching In The Tongass