Three British trade ships named the Dartmouth, the Eleanor, and the Beaver sat in the Boston harbor for weeks. Their anger delivery wasn't being unloaded because the colonists of Boston refused to buy or use the English tea. Their parliament was directed at Great Britain, which had passed the Tea Act. The Tea Act was a law that required American colonists to buy their tea from the British owned East India Company. The Tea Act was passed by Parliament on May 10, 1773. The law lowered tax on tea, however, the Tea Act placed a tax on tea sold by any other company.
