REVOLUTIONARY W

The Revolutionary War, which began in 1775, was the struggle for independence from Great Britain. After the French and British fought the colonies in defeating the French for control of America. The taxes and laws were fair since they did not get to have their own (government). For that reason, they went to war to gain independence. Many battles were fought between the two sides. The battles that started and ended the war were the Battle of Lexington and the Battle of Yorktown.
