MARTIN LUTHER KING JR.

Martin Luther King Jr. was born on January 15th, 1929 in Atlanta, Georgia. His legal name is Michael King. His father was a preacher and changed both of their names to Martin in 1934. He added the name "Luther" to honor a German reformer named Martin Luther.

MLK Jr. was so smart that he skipped 4th grade and 11th grade to enroll in Morehouse College at the age of 15. He earned a sociology degree in 1948. He then went on to attend the Crozer Theological Seminary and became the class valedictorian in 1951. A valedictorian is a student with the highest academic achievements.

King later went on to get his doctor's degree in theology from Boston University. Martin went into ministry because his father was a preacher and he was inspired by his work. Martin Luther King Jr. married Coretta Scott in 1953.

MLK Jr. was a pastor, leader and activist during the Civil Rights Movement. The main goal of the Civil Rights Movement was to ensure that all people were equally protected by the law, including minorities. He dedicated his life to achieving equality for Americans of all skin colors. He envisioned America as a colorblind society where race would not determine a person's rights.

Martin Luther King Jr. was a civil rights activist in the 1950's. In 1955, he took a leadership role in the Montgomery Bus Boycott where Rosa Parks was arrested for not giving up her seat on a bus. The bus boycott in Alabama lasted 382 days. During the boycott King was arrested. After his arrest, he wrote a "Letter from a Birmingham Jail" outlining his beliefs of racial equality and hopes for the future of America. Despite the many struggles, segregation on the Montgomery buses came to an end.

In 1957, MLK Jr. became president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC). This organization was created to fight segregation and achieve civil rights.

In 1958, "Stride Toward Freedom," Martin's book, was published. At a book signing in Harlem, he was attacked and suffered injuries. He and other
