6 PASSAGES

Before America became the country it is today, it was made up of 13 colonies (an area under control of another country) under British rule. Britain began taxing the colonies to pay for the French and Indian War, a war for control of America against New France. However, the colonists did not believe the taxes were fair since they had no say in British Parliament (government).

Colonial protests of the taxes led to the Boston Massacre in 1770 and the Boston Tea Party in 1773.

In 1775, the Revolutionary War began because the colonies did not want Britain to continue forcing these unfair laws and taxes on them. But as some time went on, they decided they no longer wanted to be under the British rule and the abusive government.

The Declaration of Independence was written as the document that declared America's independence from Great Britain.
