6 PASSAGES

Did you know that humans today drink the same water that dinosaurs once did? Dinosaurs were lizard-like reptiles that lived on Earth more than 65 million years ago. They were the main animals roaming the planet for 150 million years.

The word dinosaur comes from the Greek language and means "terrible lizard." These animals lived during the Mesozoic Era, also known as The Age of Dinosaurs. The era is broken down into three main periods known as Triassic, Jurassic and Cretaceous periods. Throughout these periods, many different dinosaurs lived and died, with some becoming extinct and new ones emerging.

There were many different types of dinosaurs of various sizes. Some were the largest animals to ever walk the Earth. Humans have learned about dinosaurs through their fossils or remains. Since the 1800s, their fossils have been found preserved in rock.
