NEW KINGDOM

The New Kingdom was the period of time in Ancient Egypt from 1520 BC to 1075 BC. Ancient Egypt was divided into three main kingdoms at different time periods: the Old Kingdom, the Middle Kingdom, and the New Kingdom. The New Kingdom, also known as the Golden Age, was the most prosperous (successful) and powerful one of the three. Ancient Egypt was established along the Nile River in northeast Africa.

There were 3 dynasties throughout this period; the Eighteenth, the Nineteenth, and the Twentieth. A dynasty is a royal family who rules over a period of time. Many famous pharaohs ruled including Thutmose III, Hatshepsut, and Tutankhamun (known as King Tut).

Before the New Kingdom, and after the Middle Kingdom, Ancient Egypt went through a time called the Second Intermediate Period. During this time, northern Egypt was ruled by foreigners known as the Hyksos.

In 1540 BC, a 10 year old boy by the name of Ahmose I became king of Lower Egypt. He was the first ruler of the New Kingdom and was able to defeat the Hyksos and bring Egypt back together under one rule, beginning the New Kingdom.

The New Kingdom brought on many conquests of new land. They conquered lands to the south such as Nubia, as well as east such as Lebanon and Syria. They began trading with many other kings and nations, expanding further than they had before. They also discovered gold mines in one of the areas they conquered, Nubia. They were able to use the gold to buy things from others and it led them to become a very wealthy civilization. The cultural center of the Egyptian Empire was the city of Thebes. Much Egyptian art was inspired by the afterlife.

Because of the wealth they had, the pharaohs built many temples. Temples honored the gods of Ancient Egypt. They believed in
