Gratitude Writing Activity Set

★Teacher Feedback:★

•I learned a lot about my students from what they were grateful for, which in turn made me more appreciative of them as well. I take one full class period the first time we do this activity, and then I make it a Fun Friday rotation, where students can shout out their classmates, write a note to somebody who works in the school, or write a note to their families. Really lovely and it puts students in the mindset to look out for moments of kindness and gratitude! -
